

Design and Construction

Design and Construction

{slimbox align=|right| padding=|10| album=|about| title=|By fast-tracking a project, Mericle cuts construction time by as much as 30% over ordinary construction methods.}|images/stories/081607/design.jpg{/slimbox}Mericle's in-house design and construction management team provides an unmatched level of innovation and flexibility for our clients. As the region's authorized builder for Butler Manufacturing Company, our in-house team of structural designers includes some of the most experienced professionals in dealing with Butler systems.

Our construction division self-performs mechanical, electrical, plumbing and carpentry functions. Fast-track construction is even faster at Mericle because our excavation and construction divisions self-perform their trades and because Butler buildings can be erected quickly without expensive fieldwork and on-site modifications. This makes meeting deadlines much less complicated.

By fast-tracking a project, Mericle cuts construction time by as much as 30% over ordinary construction methods.

Learn more about Mericle services on these pages:

Development

Design and Construction

Excavation

Property Management

Brokerage